

Dear friends,

The Presbytery's Racial Justice Working Group invites you to join local Presbyterian congregations in a weekly Lenten discussion of Lent of Liberation: Confronting the Legacy of American Slavery by Cheryl Mills (daily devotional described below). Note: This text contains imagery of graphic accounts of violence.

Starting the week of February 22 and continuing through Lent, discussions will be held virtually on these days and times:

- Mondays 5 p.m. Irondequoit Presbyterian Church link <https://zoom.us/j/9345918056...>
- Wednesdays Noon Third Presbyterian Church link <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/87401009478...>
- Wednesdays 6 p.m. Gates Presbyterian Church
email office@gatespres.org for connections

This set of daily devotionals “invites readers to learn more about the brutal institution of slavery and its impact on Black people in America and recognize how its evolution and legacy continue to harm their descendants in the United States today. Each of the forty devotionals includes the testimony of a person who escaped slavery through the Underground Railroad, a Scripture passage, and a reflection connecting biblical and historical themes to challenge modern readers to work for liberation. Reflecting on Lenten themes of exodus, redemption, discipline, and repentance, readers, both Black and white, will be empowered for the work of racial justice.”

 Trigger Alert: This text contains imagery of graphic accounts of violence.
